

PHELAN LUCKY

Our middle child Jack is 1 of only 400 people in the world diagnosed with the chromosomal abnormality called Ring 22, a rare form of Phelan-McDermid Syndrome (PMS), which, in and of itself is considerably rare. There are approximately 1950 known cases of PMS in the world but it is felt that this number is low due to the large number of people who are undiagnosed. With the odds stacked against Jack and his peers you may be wondering why we are PHELAN LUCKY. We have become involved with the Phelan Mc-Dermid Syndrome Foundation (PMSF), a group who is on a tireless pursuit to push science forward and help create better lives for Jackie and others like him. We were lucky to find them and they have inspired us to do our part.
