Updates and Reminders

- 1. Just a reminder that students will receive grades this school year that will count towards passing and failing for the academic year. Please make sure to check HAC and hold your student accountable for their grades.
- 2. Please try your best to ensure that your student has a quiet place to work when on their Zoom lessons. We want to ensure that our scholars are able to hear their teachers when on Zoom.

Student Dress Code

Those students that chose the in-person learning option will be required to adhere to the dress code and cell phone policies. Please see the attached policies.

Students will be required to wear masks that are appropriate for the school setting. Students are not permitted to wear gaiters or bandannas. Refusal to wear masks will be considered a violation of the student code of conduct and will result in disciplinary action.

Red Clay Learning Options

As of Friday October 16th, the window for choosing which learning option would be best for your student has closed. Families are not permitted to change their option.

Please see the following descriptors below to learn more about what will take place for each option.

Changes to Red Clay Online for Secondary Students

- For grades 6-12, Red Clay Online will be similar to what students have now, with instruction provided by a Red Clay teacher, via Zoom.
- Accelerate Education still remains an option for those who prefer the self-paced learning model. If you prefer Accelerate Education for online learning, please contact your school principal for details.

Students are only permitted to come to school during their assigned cohort days. Cohort One(last names A-L) is to report in-person on Monday's and Tuesday's. Cohort Two (last names M-Z) is to report in-person on Thursday's and Friday's. Please see the detailed explanation below.

Changes to Red Clay on Campus for Secondary Students

- For grades 6-12, Red Clay on Campus students will attend school in person two days a week, in one of two cohorts. Further details will be provided by your school principal.
